

BOSTON COLLEGE
Department of Economics

EC 201
Microeconomic Theory

M. Kraus
Fall 2001

Syllabus

Course Description: EC 201 develops a theoretical framework with which to analyze the two basic economic units, the consumer and the producer. This analysis is then employed to investigate the determination of price and output in various market situations. Criteria for analyzing economic welfare are developed, and the performances of economic systems are assessed.

Prerequisites: One semester of calculus (e.g., MT 100).
