EC 372: International Finance

Time: Tuesdays and Thursdays @ 9:00 AM
Location: Campion 235
Instructor: Eyal Dvir (eyal.dvir@bc.edu)
Office hours: Tuesdays 11-12 or by appointment (Maloney 334)

Syllabus: Fall 2014

Course Description: This course is an introduction to the field of economics known as International Macroeconomics and Finance. It broadly deals with the monetary aspects of international economics. We will address a wide range of topics, including: foreign exchange rates, international capital movements, the benefits and costs of financial globalization, economic policy in an open economy, exchange rate regimes, and monetary union. We will naturally focus on the causes and consequences of financial crises, keeping an international perspective.

We will discuss real-world events, but it is important to remember that this is a course in economic theory. Problem sets and examinations will emphasize the application of theory learned in class to particular situations.

Textbook: “International Macroeconomics, 3rd Edition” by Feenstra and Taylor. We will cover the entire textbook, more or less in order. Please see below for a more detailed description.

This textbook is comprised of chapters 12-22 of “International Economics, 3rd Edition” by Feenstra and Taylor (note the slight difference in titles.) There is a paperback edition, an e-book version, and a loose-leaf version. Please purchase the version which suits you best. There are also copies for rent at the BC bookstore.
